Because he lives song sheet

If you have little ones at home, come with activities to keep them busy, sometimes challenging can be challenging. There are several games though your kids can play with each other and you can join in the fun too! One such game sings action songs. Singing is not only a fun activity for your children, but also a great way to establish a solid foundation in terms of motor skills and communication skills. Fine motor skills are the ability to control the small muscles in one's body, including fingers, toes, tongue, and lips. Singing can sing toddlers to exercise the muscles in and around their mouths. Sing also helps to develop speech and communication skills. Children's songs usually have rhythm words that expose children to sound skills and sound awareness. According to Scholastic, it will enable them to speak, grant and learn how to read with more ease. Furthermore, singing with parents is supposed to promote mutual communication skills at a young age. Songs that incorporate actions and movement will also help toddlers with rhythm, spatial awareness, balance, and coordination. Here are 3 popular children's songs that you can imagine your child. These songs also include easy dance passes that go with the lyrics, which will make your little ones move around. Lyrics (enduring) Hang your ears low? (Drag at overlobe) Are they floating and again? (Place hands near ears and wave back and forth) Can you tie them stuck in a knot? (Predin you type a knot) Can you tie them stuck in a bow? (Precede you type a bow) Can you throw them over your shoulder (Precede you throw something over your shoulder)Like a continental soldier (Salute)Do your ears low hang? (Drag at overlobe) Yes, my ears hang lowYes, they floating around and fro! can bind them in a knot! can bind them stuck in a bowl can throw them over my shoulderLike a continental stomp, my ears hang low! Music sheet by G. DeBenedetti Lyrics The one-sey spider went up the water sprayer (Right inches to left pinkie, Then left inches to the right pink and so on)Down took the rain and washed the spider out (Keep hands high then wrapping fingers as hands move down)Out took the sun and dried up all the rain (Keep hands high and shape circle)and the onesey spider took the dump again.
